授業概要	The class will cover the communication skills necessary to explain Japanese culture to non-Japanese tourists or foreign people interested in Japan . This will be achieved by practicing a variety of functional / grammatical expressions through listening activities, vocabulary exercises, interactive pairwork, and group discussions.
学生が達成すべき行動目標	Students who successfully complete this course will be able to: - Use the content of the first semester as a basis for all activities - Use simple grammatical expressions they have learned to clearly explain Japanese objects, cultural practices, and concepts covered in both semesters. - Understand and respect cultural differences, while also maintaining a personal set of beliefs based on factual information - Exhibit critical thinking skills in considering more than one perspective at a time - Continue to enjoy using English in a relaxed way while also respecting their classmates and instructor in a positive, collegial learning environment.

理想的レベル				標準的なレベル
As in semester 1, an ideal student for this class would actively engage with their instructor and peers and use as much English as possible. They would also assist any students who are having trouble understanding. They would be fully attentive at all times and participate enthusiastically in all class activities. They would complete all homework assignments on time and prepare well for all quizzes and exams in the second semester.				Following from semester 1, students must arrive to class on time, and remain awake and engaged with clasmates during the 90 minute class period. Students must not interact with any devices (smartphones, etc.) that distract or draw attention away from the class learning objectives. Students must complete all class activites to the best of their abilities. Students must complete all homework in a timely manner and adequately prepare for quizzes and tests in the second semester.

授業以外の学習方法・受講生へのメッセージ	The keys to successful completion of this course are active participation and a strong motivation and interest in learning. Come to class with a positive attitude and a willingness to do your best and you will succeed.
達成度評価に関するコメント	Please do not be absent from class too often. A large portion of your grade is class participation, so absences will significantly lower your grade. Speak up as often as possible and share your opinions and abilities with the class. This will have a big effect on your grade. Please try to complete all homework assignments on time. Try to be a positive, encouraging influence on those around you so all students can achieve their educational goals. その他 Your active and passive participation scores will cover 60% of your final grade. Passive participation consists of attendance, punctuality, and exhibiting respect for your classmates, your teacher, and the academic environment of the university. Active participation consists of teamwork, active contributions to class, and public speaking in small group and class discussions. All of these participation skills mirror essential life and work skills.
