単位	2	履修	選択	開講年次	4		開講時期	前期
担当教員	Andrew Zitzmann
授業概要	In this Global English course, we will look at what English is, where it came from, and how the cultures that use it have adapted it to their needs. We will do this by using the different aspects of English that you have learned in your various courses over the last three years. We will see how these different aspects fit together and can be used in a global context. If you take this class, please be prepared to research, collaborate, and share with your classmates. All classes will be taught in English. Parts of the course may involve online work.
授業形態	対面授業（一部オンデマンド）				授業方法	グループワーク、ディスカッション
学生が達成すべき行動目標
標準的レベル	Students taking this course will focus on achieving these goals: － Understand how the different aspects of English have and continue to shape the language. － Understand the part that English plays in the many cultures of the world. － Develop research skills in order to gain a greater understanding of English in a global context. Students in this class must listen to the guidelines carefully and incorporate what they learn into reaching the course outcomes. They need to work with others, listen to the feedback they receive, and incorporate this into their results.
理想的レベル	An ideal student in this class combines the guidelines they receive with their own creativity, imagination, and confidence to research the relevant material, discuss it, and share with other class members.
