単位	1	履修	選択	開講年次	2	開講時期	前期
担当教員	Marne Saddy
授業概要	This course is designed to help students develop the "Three Golden Rules" of speaking fluency - never remain silent, give longer answers, and talk about yourself. Students will first learn useful language patterns through controlled speaking practice and sounding natural strategies. Once basic skills are established, students will practice self-expression through creative conversations and free-style communication.
	The teacher will first model language patterns, so the students can practice and produce the language on their own. After practicing, students will demonstrate their skills to the teacher and receive immediate feedback as "incomplete", "satisfactory" or "mastered". This modelling and immediate feedback method allows students to understand how well they are mastering the language each step of the way. *All classes will be taught in English

学生が達成すべき行動目標
標準的 レベル	Students will use Japanese translations of vocabulary, language patterns, and sounding natural notes provided in the textbook to study before each class. Then, students will work together to confirm their understanding of the language and practice using substitution drills. Finally, students will consolidate the language by using it in creative situations.
理想的 レベル	Students will increase their confidence and motivation regarding English usage in general, and oral communication in particular. The ultimate goal of this course is to take the fear out of speaking English, and put the fun back into it!
